Although none of the gamblinghouses are supposed to be running, the prosupposed to be running, the pro-prietors have been paying Scott to act as a booster. A day or two ago he dis-appeared. With him disappeared green-backs to the amount of $90. The money belonged to "the house." Up to date the officers have secured no trace of the Judge King delivered his lecture on Voltaire at the Unity church last evening before a large audience. The address was interesting and well received. Voltaire, he said, was a delst and not an atheist, according to the popular conception, and that he built houses of worship and encouraged faith in God. "Voltaire was better than his age in morals," he said. "We cannot judge a morals," he said. "We cannot judge a man who lived at his time by the high standards of morals which are now ob served. He struck at superstition and pristcraft and not at Christianity. He pleaded for liberty of conscience and of thought and abhorred hypocrisy. His dying words were, 'I love my friends, do not hate my enemies and detest su-perstition.'"

Dr. T. B. Beatty, well known as the efficient secretary of the Utah state board of health, has been appointed on a special smallpox committee of the federal public health and marine hospital service, which meets annually to discuss health relations from a federal and interstate standpoint. The other members of the committee are Dr. McCormack of Kentucky, Dr. Mitchell of New Jersey, Dr. Young of Maine and Dr. Myers of West Virginia. The service was created at last winters' session of Congress. Dr. Beatty is regarded as one of the most efficient health officials in the west. He has watched hygenic conditions in this state with great care for years, and has always been ready to respond to the first call from any point of the state. Dr. Beatty was formerly city physician, and has been an officer in county, state and interstate medical societies and associations.

FAITHFUL WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. L. C. Mariger Succumbs to Long-Standing Affliction.

Mrs. Sarah L. Mariger, wife of Lawrence C. Mariger, died this morning at her home in Farmers ward, from chronic lung trouble. The deceased was the daughter of Bishop Levi Stewart and his wife Artimacy of Kanab, Utah, and was born in this city Dec. 22, 1855. Here she spent her childhood, but in later years her father was called to help build up Mariger, and during her husband's incumbency as Bishop there, her home was always open to the authorities of the Church, many of whom there have the state. authorities of the Church, many of whom shared her hospitality at a time when greatly in need of it. For many years she was connected with the Y. L. M. I. A. and Relief society, and although the mother of a large family and hampered with ill health, she never shirked in the performance of duty. About 1891 Mr. and Mrs. Mariger moved to Sait Lake, where the latter's health grew worse, at times being most critical. Through all her sickness Mrs. Mariger never murmured. Her last illness came only two weeks ago and she died surrounded by her mother, husband and all her children, a faithful Latter-day Saint to the end.

The funeral will be held Wednesday, at 1 p. m., from the Farmers ward meetinghouse.

A DAUGHTER'S GRIEF.

Shown at the Funeral of Mrs. Romney Yesterday Afternoon.

The poignant grief of an only daughter who had been a constant companion of her mother until death relieved her of her sufferings, characterized the services yesterday afternoon over the remains of Mrs. Jane W. Romney, wife of the late Joseph G. Romney. The funeral was held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. C. Brown, 376 Fifth street, at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Touching music was rendered by a select quartet and the speakers were Elders Joshua Midgley, William were Elders Joshua Midgley, William B. Barton, President Angus M. Cannon, James Higbee and Bishop Romney, brother-in-law of the deceased. spoke in high terms of the character of Mrs. Romney, of her many virtues and the goodly life she had led, and expressed the conviction that the reward of the faithful awaited her beyond the veil. As the closing selection the quar-tet rendered, "Shall we meet beyond the river?" and as the strains of the se-lection died away, Mrs. Brown was so affected by the thought of parting with her mother that she became hysterical and it was with much difficulty that was comforted by those around There were many beautiful floral emblems and the services throughout were decidedly impressive,

THE RALEIGH CASE.

Court Decides That Title to Property

Vests in Defendants. Judge Hall has rendered a decree in favor of defendants in the case of Emily P. Raleigh against Caroline C. R. Wells, Jacob T. Raleigh, the executors of the estate of A. H. Raleigh, deceased, the Chuch of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Mutual Investment company. The action was brought are always best. Ask for them.

to quiet title to lot 1, block 114, plat A Salt Lake City survey, which is known as the Raleigh homestead.

The property was bequeathed by Mr. Raleigh to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints subject, however, to a life estate in favor of Caroline C. R. Wells and Jacob T, Raleigh. The plaintiff in this action, who is the wid-ow of deaceased, agreed to relinquish her interest in the homestead in consideration for a certain allowance set aside for her out of the estate. The allowance was made by the court, but later she filed this action to recover her interest in the homestead. In the meantime the parties holding life estate in the property had disposed of their in-terests and a part of the property had been sold to the Mutual Investment company. The case was tried before Judge Hall some time ago and has been ase of Interest Brought in Local Courts By Charles M. Freed.

Suit to quiet title to a military bounty land warrant has been filed in the district court by Charles M. Freed against Samuel M. McDougal, W. B. Freed Harwell, J. B. Bonner and E. T. Wilkenson. Plaintiff alleges that he pur-chased land warrant No. 33,307 25 years ago from James Dowdy, a private in Capt, McNeal's company of the South Carolina militia in the war of 1812. warrant was issued under the act of March 3, 1855. Since its purchase plaintiff lost the warrant and defendants have set up some claim to it. It is therefore asked that the title to the same be quieted in plaintiff.

Divorce Case.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Mabel Hess Hughes against David Hughes on the ground of cruelty. They were married in Ogden on June 8, 1901. It is alleged that de-fendant is addicted to the use of liquor and when under its influence abuses his wife in a cruel manner, calling her atl sorts of vile names. A short time be fore their child died she charges that he locked her out of the house and com-pelled her to remain out until he returned from town.
